Dear Sirs

I am writing from England, having followed the case of Cary Madison Gregg v. State of Mississippi on Court TV and social media.

I watched much of her appeal hearing online a few months ago now and I would like to request as the Mississippi Supreme Court, confirmed the sentence was "Life in Prison" and not Life Without Parole, that the necessary court documentation is sent to the Mississippi Department of Correction to clarify this, and ensure that Carly Gregg is confirmed as eligible for parole, and that a date is then set for her parole hearing eligibility.

It is deeply troubling how a 14 year old who made one fatal mistake, find herself in a situation without hope. As an observer from England, I would like to request that her parole eligibility is confirmed as a matter of priority.

Yours Sincerely

Chris Woodward
