Re: Carly Madison Gregg — No. 2024-KA-01178-SCT
Support for Motion for Rehearing

ORIGINAL

Dear Chief Justice and Honorable Justices,

I am writing this letter in support of Carly Madison Gregg and her attorney's Motion for Rehearing, though I may not be as kind as my colleagues who have emailed you on Carly's behalf.
Not to mention the number of people who posted letters of support on her docket.
Quite frankly I am appalled at the lack of interest in the Supreme Court's ability to take a look at its very serious problems.

At 14-years old, this young girl should never have been tried as an adult in the lower court. Keeping that in mind, is there a reason you could not have considered her case with open-mindedness and not let your very flawed sentencing guidelines and interpretations direct your final opinion?

Because I don't get it.

I understand that this Court's August 20, 2026 opinion affirmed Carly's convictions and sentences, while also making an important distinction regarding the sentence imposed upon her. The Court determined that Carly received life imprisonment, rather than a sentence of life imprisonment without eligibility for parole.

That distinction now has significant practical consequences.

The concern is that, despite this Court's determination, Carly's records within the Mississippi Department of Corrections continue to identify her as ineligible for parole because they had not received a directive from this Court requiring a change.

Can you see the frustration this has caused for myself and countless others? It strikes me as irresponsible and lacking the compassion and critical thinking needed to decide the entirety of someone's life.

Carly's attorneys have already brought this matter directly to the Court through their September 17 Motion for Rehearing, seeking clarification and an enforceable mandate concerning her parole eligibility. I respectfully ask the Court to give that request serious consideration.

I also ask the Court, in considering the Motion for Rehearing, to clarify its ruling and mandate in a manner that leaves no uncertainty regarding Carly's parole eligibility and, where legally appropriate, directs the necessary correction of her MDOC classification and records.

It is important that there be consistency between the judgment of the Court and the records relied upon by the state agency responsible for administering that judgment.

I respectfully thank the Court for considering this matter and for the care given to Carly's case.

Respectfully,

A supporter of Carly Madison Gregg

I need to know why it is y'all have not clarified for everyone involved, Carly's eligibility for parole .
I don't know how many emails we have sent to you regarding this and many other matters in Carly Gregg's case, but it certainly feels like nobody is taking this seriously.
Do you people not understand that you hold a child's future in your hands? I am so tired of this. I'm trying to be as respectful as those who have come before me expressing their support, but I'm at wits end.
I was asked to send a "respectful "message but I think I'm all out of respect.

Please, please take this as seriously as those of us who support Carly and her family, which, by the way, includes her mom. You were chosen to be justices and we really need you to take this seriously.

I'm all out of patience and I'm all out of emails. Just do your job.
